

International Partnership for the Satoyama Initiative
10 and 12 March 2011.
Nagoya (JAPAN)

Management Protected Areas in Chad and Satoyama Initiative
By Habib GADEMI

Management structure PA

- The Department of National Parks, Wildlife Reserves and Hunting (DPNRFC) is responsible for management of protected areas and wildlife in general. It depends on the Ministry of Environment and Water Resources,

Management and Landscapes

The absorptive capacity for new activities by the population

The possibility of involving new activities with the knowledge and know-how existing to reduce resistance to change and increase the rate of acceptability conservation of ecosystems;

Risk management and conflicts

Management and Landscapes

- increased difficulty of the tasks that may represent a new work by compared to the normal activities of harvesting natural resources;
- the profitability of new activities in a peasant and national and the costs of new conservation actions or development terms of social upheaval, cultural fracture;

Landscapes and benefit sharing

- equitable sharing of functions, rights and responsibilities;
- equitable benefit sharing in a fair biological resources ;
- capacity building of farmers in management
- creation of income generating activities

CLOSING REMARKS

THANK YOU VERY MUCH FOR YOUR ATTENTION